Animal Humane New Mexico is a managed admissions shelter located in the heart of New Mexico. They believe that every adoptable animal deserves the love of a home; and every home deserves the transformative love of a pet. Through their community outreach and shelter animal transfer efforts, they help to improve the lives of cats and dogs across the state of New Mexico, providing support to more than 10,000 homeless and at-risk animals each year.

The Pet Resource Center, the first in New Mexico, is home to an umbrella of programs aimed at keeping the owned pets of the community happy, healthy, and in the arms of their loving families.

Come meet the tail-wagging buddies at Animal Humane New Mexico and see how they are cared for and managed through the range of services that are provided. One hour will be lecture with Q&A (may have puppies in the room if available). One hour will be tours of AHNM main campus then a short walk (or drive) a half block to the Pet Resource Center for additional tour.
